Comrades, Supporters, and Friends:

Certain Black organizations are attempting to turn away potential support by making racist statements. We feel this argument overshadows the issue of truth. We know the repression of the Black Panther Party is related to the fight for justice and peace for all the people. We are all people, whether Black or White. We are all oppressed by the ruling class. What we must realize is that it is not students or White radicals who are our enemies, but those who deprive us of the necessities in life. Another point that we want to make clear is that the electric chair makes no distinction between White and Black. Student and worker, rich or poor, the electric chair is pulled to rid the nation of those who want food, housing, clothing, education, and an end to their alleged crimes.

TIGHTEN YOU BELT ANOTHER NOTCH
The Economic Boycott Committee of Drew University has called for a boycott that will not be effective. Rather than call for the boycott of one of more than a dozen items, we should all unite and powerfully boycott one company. I strongly urge everyone at UNH to continue with the boycott of the Coca-Cola Co.

Kathy Ryan

MORE ON THE BOYCOTT
Last weekend in Washington representatives from 36 colleges attended a National Economic Boycott meeting and decided upon a systematic boycott so that large corporations will lobby in Washington for student demands. Students hold a powerful leverage of control over many large corporations, such as Coca-Cola and Phillip Morris, because the people in the age group of 12-25 years are the major consumers of their products. By boycotting we can force these corporations to lobby for our demands. Phillip Morris has already expressed concern over the proposed boycott and it is our job to make that concern into a powerful lobby.

This boycott will be focused upon only two or three corporations at one time, therefore your immediate response is necessary. The corporations will be youth-oriented and the products are non-essentials. As soon as a corporation begins to lobby for our demands it will be replaced by another. The first two corporations to be boycotted are Phillip Morris and Coca-Cola. Phillip Morris products include: Marlboro, Parliament, Alpine, Paxton, Phillip Morris, Persona Razor Blades, English Ovations, Miller High Life Beer, North East and Revelation Smoking Tobacco, Komo and Co., Campy and Tobacco Products, Clark Gun, Burma Shave, Player's Navy Cut, and Player's English.

Coca-Cola and its subsidiaries include: Coca-Cola (75% of its sales), Fresca, Tab, Fanta, Sprite, Pekeo Beverages, Minute Maid Products, Snow Crop, Hi-C, Hiates Root Beer, Dr. Pepper, Bar-B Flavors, Down-East Products, Real Gold Products, Aqua-Chem Products, Simba, Palm Tree, and Butternut Coffee.

Let's show these corporations where their money comes from!!!

WOMEN!
A Women's Table will be set up in the Union (in fact, it is set up right now!), where there will be literature and people to talk to... anyone interested in womaning the table should contact someone at the table. The strike has covered and generated interest in many issues, but somehow women have been forgotten. It is time they started being remembered! There will also be workshops on women and the strike and other issues. Come--you may learn something.

FREE ERIKA, FREE AMERIKA! FREE ERIKA, FREE AMERIKA! FREE ERIKA, FREE AMERIKA!
CARBONDALE, Illinois—Southern Illinois University at Carbondale has been closed. The action was taken after four thousand anti-war protesters marched to the University president's house to demand that the school be closed in protest of the Indochinese war. Meanwhile, 5 Southern Illinois students became monopoly champions. Apparently more interested in playing at capitalism with toy money, the quintet finished 75 hours of non-stop playing, thereby breaking the old record of 68½ hours. Participants said they broke up only after they became irritable!

South Carolina—Police and National Guardsmen are enforcing relative calm on the University of South Carolina campus. Students and guardsmen fought pitched battles in the darkened streets as a 9:00 PM curfew went into effect. The confrontation ended after the Guard lobbed tear gas into the students' ranks.

Stock Prices Down......The Dow Jones Industrial averages closed below the 700 mark today to 694. This is the lowest Dow Jones average in almost 7 years. Since a high point of 985 in Dec. of 1970, stock prices have dropped by over 30%.

Sorry, nothing much happened in the nation today, so that's all the national news. Whoops, we just got more news...

@ Students at a grade school in Illinois had their recess cancelled today after a food fight during the lunch period. Irate over this blatant injustice, they staged a sit-in at the school, chanting "NO RECESS, NO SCHOOL!"

St. Anselms------May 12----The students and faculty senate passed a resolution supporting strike options, but giving the individual instructor the right to decide how final grades will be determined. The resolution was passed by the student senate 61-3 and by the faculty senate 11-3.
